KurzbeschreibungFor fans of Kat Martin and Debbie Macomber comes a story of family and redemption... Wrong girl wrong time? Adams fling with Abbie just weeks after the death of his wife may have been all wrong, but their time together gave him the strength to return home to his newborn son, Pete, and start their new life together. Wrong guy wrong time? Abbie's fling with Adam may have been all wrong, but their time together gave her Henry, the sunshine in her life, and, although Adam is long gone, Abbie can never regret the time they spent together. But two wrongs don't necessarily make a right. Adam Cooper is back, and when he learns the truth about his unknown son, he is hell-bent on creating a home and family for his boys, even if it means blackmailing Abbie into taking part. Abbie has scars from her own tumultuous childhood, and losing Henry would destroy her. But with only mistrust and pain to bind them, can she and Adam ever find a way through regret to love and the family they could be?Praise for ADAM'S BOYS:'... a sweet, short, fast paced and emotional romance which is worth reading.' Harlequin Junkie'Very well written, with a great 360 degree view of a difficult issue, allowing the reader to simply observe or form their own opinions and conclusions an intense, emotional and beautiful story.' Confessions From Romaholicsber den Autor und weitere MitwirkendeAnna Clifton is a lawyer by trade and a mother to several children and a couple of cats. Her husband is not quite sure how her compulsive writing squeezes itself into the family schedule, but knows better than to stand in the way of the woman he loves on a mission. Anna lives in Sydney but escapes with her family as often as possible to Far North Queensland where she loves to sit with a glass of wine and watch her husband do the thing she dreads doing most - cooking!
