Kurzbeschreibung'A comfortable chair and a Mary Stewart: total heaven. I'd rather read her than most other authors.' Harriet EvansVanessa March's husband Lewis is meant to be on a business trip in Stockholm - so why does he briefly appear in newsreel footage of a fire at a circus in Vienna, with his arm around another woman? Vanessa flies to Austria to find her husband, inadvertently becoming involved in a mystery that spans three countries... and the famous dancing stallions of the Spanish Riding School.The moonlight flooded the meadow, blanching all colours to its own ghostly silver. The pines were very black. As the stallion rose in the last magnificent rear of the levande, the moonlight poured over him bleaching his hide so that for perhaps five or six seconds he was no longer an old broken-down piebald, but a haute cole stallion of the oldest line in Europe.PressestimmenFrom opening to finale, this zestful romantic adventure grips, amuses, frightens and delights (Sunday Telegraph)Mary Stewart is magic (New York Times)She set the bench mark for pace, suspense and romance - with a great dollop of escapism as the icing (Elizabeth Buchan)A comfortable chair and a Mary Stewart: total heaven.
