Mennonite Magdalena rocks! Von Wombatsbooks
The PennDutch series has been one of my favorite cozy series since umpteenth years. The series has been good from the beginning, but got even better with the years and the first one has already been out in 1994. In Magdalena's 11th adventure Colonel Custard comes to Hernia. He wants to build a 5-star-hotel but most of Hernia's god-fearing citizens are against his plans. Before Colonel Custard can proceed with his plans, he is murdered however. As usual Magdalena has to help the nincompoop local Chief of Police, Melvin Stoltzfus ' a.k.a. "The Praying Mantis" to solve the case....Magdalena is a memorable character with a tongue that could slice cheese and an acerbic sense of humor. She has a sister who is 36 and still on a monthly allowance (because she hasn't reached emotional maturity yet), a foster daughter with more holes in her body than the good Lord intended to be there, a cook who quits "at the drop of a saucepan", a babe of a fianc who is not of her faith, an inn to run for the financially very well to do and a murder investigation at her hands that seems to be going nowhere...Result: Hilarious fun and entertainment throughout! "Custard's Last Stand" is a prime cozy!

KurzbeschreibungAn Amish Bed and Breakfast Mystery with Recipes PennDutch Mysteries #11
When Colonel George Custard arrives in Hernia in a shiny stretch-limo, the town isnt exactly enthusiastic. And when he announces that he plans to build a glitzy new hotel in Hernia, the residents are outraged at the threat to their quaint, quiet town. Protests soon get heated! As usual, Magdalena is right in the thick of the action especially when the colonel is found shot to death at the PennDutch Inn. Now Magdalena Yoder must find out who caused the Colonels Custard's last stand or she may lose the PennDutch Inn forever
Bubbling over with mirth and mystery. Dorothy Cannella
A delicious treat. Carolyn G. Hart
Charming and delightful...Tamar Myers [keeps] it fresh and original. --Midwest Book
