Sage und Cooper trumen von einem BedBreakfast Haus. Um ihr Traumhaus Winter Song kaufen zu können heuert Cooper - gegen Sages Willen - auf einem Fischtrawler an. Bei seiner ersten Fahrt rettet er einem anderen Matrosen das Leben, ertrinkt aber selbst. Als Geist kehrt er zu Sage zurück und realisiert zuerst nicht, dass er tot ist. Aber mehr wird nicht verraten! 0 von 0 Kunden fanden die folgende Rezension hilfreich. lovely story Von Hoener, Birgit Cooper and Sage were lovers and saved all their money to open a Bed Breakfast; Cooper took a job on a fishing trawler and dies in an accident. Sage, now on her own, decides to live their dream and buys Winter Song, an old, much needing repair building. She hires Noah, an out of work carpenter, to help her with the renovation. So far, so good. What she doesn't know is that the ghost of her former lover is constantly by her side. Noah, however, is able to see and converse with ghosts, and as he falls in love with Sage, the two men are constantly fighting with each other. Add to that Cooper's estranged Dad who Sage takes in, the local cop has been in love with Sage for ages, and a criminal endangering Sage, and you have all the ingredients for a funny, sad, and interesting story. This book is all that. The interaction between Noah and Cooper is hilarious, Sage's grief and her attempt to go on with life are the sad parts, and Cooper's Dad and the cop add the interesting bits. It is not a fast paced book, but the way the story develops, and is told, is just lovely. I enjoyed this story and am looking forward to reading more of this author.

Kurzbeschreibung3rd Place Finalist Breakthrough Novel Awards*2010 Winner OWFI Contemporary Romance Sage McKennan never expected she'd have to go at it alone. Cooper Davis had always been by her side as they worked to fulfill their dream of owning a bed and breakfast named, Winter Song. One cold Wyoming night, Sage is brought to her knees by the news of Cooper's death. She has never felt so alone. Little does she know Cooper hasn't gone anywhere. His spirit is determined to stay with Sage, so she's never alone again. Noah Finnley is down on his luck. He can't find work and now he's being evicted. Things start looking up when the beautiful Sage offers him a partnership at Winter Song. Just one problem, she has a ghost attached to her and Noah's no Ghost Whisperer. He knows taking the job at Winter Song is a bad idea, but with his landlord threatening to confiscate his belongings and throw him out on the street; he feels he has no other choice, ghost or no ghost. The two men must work together when Sage stumbles upon a mad man's secret. If Noah and Cooper don't find a way to settle their differences, Sage could join Cooper on the other side, permanently.
